Palm Springs, long a desert hideaway for celebrities, has a history as unique and varied as its residents. From the original Cahuilla inhabitants of the area, to the settlers who were drawn to the therapeutic waters of the original hot springs, you will get to know the people and stories that made Palm Springs famous.

Local newspapers can hold back the rising tide of political division in America by turning away from the partisan battles in Washington and focusing their opinion page on local issues. When a local newspaper in California dropped national politics from its opinion page, the resulting space filled with local writers and issues. We use a pre-registered analysis plan to show that after this quasi-experiment, politically engaged people did not feel as far apart from members of the opposing party, compared to those in a similar community whose newspaper did not change. While it may not cure all of the imbalances and inequities in opinion journalism, an opinion page that ignores national politics could help local newspapers push back against political polarization.

Against a dramatic background of desert mountains, the sparkling green fairways of the Coachella Valley have attracted world-class golf tournaments, athletes and dignitaries for decades. In the 1920s, enterprising oil tycoon Tom O'Donnell built one of the first nine-hole courses in Palm Springs, and the area was a hangout for Hollywood's elite by the 1940s and '50s. Bob Hope's namesake PGA Tour event became a mainstay, while Bing Crosby, Dinah Shore, the Marx Brothers, Marilyn Monroe and more frequented over the years. Today, the valley is a renowned perennial golf destination boasting over 120 courses and exceptional resorts. Follow award-winning local golf

For over a decade Mr. Smythe has been sharing his thoughts and ideas for living a more positive life in the "Valley Voice," a regular column in the Desert Sun newspaper, published in Palm Springs, California. In this book, Mr. Smythe looks back at the many columns he has written, selecting his favorites, the columns that still resonate today, whose messages inspire us all to live more positive lives in these often negative times. Ray Matlock Smythe taught for 39 years and earned Teacher of the Year several times. This is his sixth book.

Devon Ames' premier novel is a rousing thriller set in the serene desert resort community of Palm Springs, CA. The Valley proves that nothing is as it seems. Welcome to The Valley. Meet Jon Arceneaux: a man of upper-crust Louisiana heritage. A Harvard graduate turned deadly covert agent in the Vietnam War. A one-time songwriter and long-haired Pacific coast dropout who dropped back in to run a frozen seafood company. After the loss of his true love, a failed marriage and a sold-off business, Jon is meandering through his twilight years - golfing, indulging in fine meals and wine, and finding sustenance in the company of a much younger woman. But this meandering leads him to be the only witness to a crime he can't ignore, one that runs deeper to the core of this sleepy desert paradise than even he can imagine. Now the perps intend on silencing him for good and Jon needs to fight... but will his wits and aging muscle be enough? And who can he really trust to help him? From pristine Rancho Mirage to the rustic mountain-top town of Idyllwild; from the heart of Palm Springs to the hi-desert outpost of Joshua Tree, Ames' work is filled with the true-to-life local color of the Coachella Valley... its serene hospitality, its

Cabot Yerxa's discovery of natural hot and cold mineral water in 1914 was the impetus for the establishment of Desert Hot Springs. His eccentric pueblo-style home, which is listed in the National Register of Historic Places, is a unique tourist attraction. L.W. Coffee also recognized the value of the hot water, so he drilled wells and opened his famous bathhouse in 1941. The development of more than 200 spas followed. Angel View Children's Hospital, established in the 1950s, uses the therapeutic water to treat disabled children. The city's extraordinary, pure cold water wins awards such as

"best tasting in the world." Desert Hot Springs is the location of architect John Lautner's first desert commission, and Mary Pickford's house still stands at the famous B-Bar-H Ranch that was frequented by movie stars during the 1940s and 1950s. The historic Two Bunch Palms Resort and Spa is known as an exclusive celebrity hideaway. The city, believed to have an unusually strong vortex, is located just south of Joshua Tree National Park. An elevation of 1,200 feet affords most residents magnificent views of both Mount San Jacinto and Mount San Gorgonio.
